Beidleman—McNeese

York, Pa., March 22 (P)—A "mass of bones" were found today in a bale of scrap paper at a paper mill here, reviving York county's "woman's arm" mystery.

Detective Carl Hartman, of the state police, said the bones were taken to the York hospital. Dr. Lewis C. Fusch, pathologist at the hospital, said they resembled human bones but he would not say positively.

The new discovery came as state and local police continued seeking to unravel the mystery of finding of a woman's forearm and hand on Saturday March 13 in the woods along the Susquehanna river near Avrilville 18 miles from here.

Hartman said that Vincent Keesey, Jr., secretary of the Schmidt and Ault Paper company, reported to state police that an employee on the night shift of their mill broke a big bale of scrap paper and a cardboard carton fell out.

When the carton was opened, Hartman said "a whole mass of bones fell out." The bones were placed in a box and taken to the state police barracks and subsequently removed to the hospital for examination. Hartman said there was no skull among the bones.

In another development, Hartman said that examination of a second bone found last Friday near Avrilville showed it to be human but there was nothing to indicate there was any connection with the woman's arm.

Hartman said the same dog, which brought in the woman's arm, showed up with another piece of bone with some flesh attached last Friday. That bone was sent to the state police laboratory, which reported it a human bone, Hartman said.

Emmitsburg

Mrs. Paul Sherwin and daughters, Martha Jane and Alice Ann, spent Saturday visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Cavender, Westminster.

Charles Hobbs, of near Emmitsburg, fell from a ladder while painting at his home on Thursday. He was admitted the same day to the Warner hospital where x-rays were taken showing that his jaw was broken in three places and that he had a fracture of the vertebrae of the spine. His condition is reported as satisfactory.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Topper and Mrs. Stella Topper spent Saturday in Hanover.

Mrs. George L. Wilhide and Mrs. O. H. Stinson spent Friday in Baltimore.

Miss Jeanette Brotherton and Miss Helen Gardner, of Baltimore, spent the week-end at Miss Brotherton's summer home near St. Anthony's.

Students of St. Joseph's high school and their friends enjoyed a program of music presented as an assembly last week. Included were two violin and guitar duets by Joseph Hobbs and Joseph Pecker. Irish melodies and some popular airs were well received by the student body. On Tuesday the students were addressed by the Very Rev. Robert J. Gill, O.M.L., Superior of the Oblate Scholasticate in Washington. Father Gill gave a talk on the meaning of religious vocations and told many details regarding the life of an Oblate of Mary Immaculate. Edward Houck, president of the student council, introduced the speaker.

Spanish classes are preparing to present an assembly on Pan-American Day in April. Members of the Book club are assisting the librarian after school and during the activity periods.

PENNA RIVERS ARE DROPPING

(By The Associated Press)
Flood waters receded on Pennsylvania's three major rivers today after forcing hundreds of persons from their homes and inundating several communities.

The Allegheny was falling at all points in the Keystone state. Crests moved down the Susquehanna and Delaware without reaching the disaster stage.

All three waterways spilled over their banks after heavy week-end rains. Smaller streams throughout the state also spread out. Red Cross workers stood by at many points as the danger subsided.

Some 350 families were evacuated from portions of Meadville during the night as French Creek rose.

However, the Allegheny started falling there after hitting 2.8 above flood level. Some Meadville and Oil City industries resumed work but many employees were unable to get to their jobs. All Warren schools but one reported. Surgeons left oily one entrance to General hospital open. The Times-Mirror planned to resume publication after temporary suspension.

ASKS PROBE OF SCHMELING'S COMEBACK PLAN

Washington, March 23 (AP)—Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.) said today he is asking the State Department to look into Max Schmeling's plans to make a ring comeback in this country.

Schmeling, world heavyweight boxing champion in the early thirties, announced in Hamburg, Germany, he is seeking permission to enter the United States this summer for a series of bouts.

McDowell told reporters he has asked the visa section of the State Department, which handles such requests, for an explanation. He said he wants to get all the facts possible before deciding whether to oppose the 42-year-old fighter's return. McDowell is a member of the House un-American activities committee.

"It seems to me a rather shoddy scheme to bring an over-age fighter who certainly has been useful to the Nazis into this country to exploit sports' followers of the United States," McDowell said.

Won On Fou

"Schmeling, when he was heavyweight champion, certainly never objected to being idolized by the Nazis as proof of their master race theories. To all intents and purposes, he paid lip service to the belief that the Germans were to rule the world."

And he said "Schmeling had ample opportunity to know democracy in this country, and he earned a lot of money in a country against which he later fought."

A Nazi paratrooper during the war, Schmeling won the world's heavyweight championship from Jack Sharkey June 12, 1930, claiming a foul in the fourth round. In a return bout he lost the crown in a 15-round decision in June 21, 1932.

Schmeling fought Joe Louis twice. He knocked out Louis in 12 rounds June 19, 1936, then on June 22, 1938, Louis beat him to the canvas in the first round.

SNOWMEN TRIP CABINEER FIVE

The Gettysburg Snowmen continued their swift pace in tournament play by drubbing the Hagerstown Cabiner cagers 72-42 in a semi-final game of the Gold Medal tournament at Waynesboro Monday evening.

Off to an 18-8 lead in the first period the Snowmen left little doubt as to their superiority over the highly-regarded Cabiners as they piled up a 36-12 lead at half time.

Bucky Harris netted 14 points to pace the local attack while Joe Howard, forward Gettysburg college star, landed 13 for the Cabiners.

The Snowmen will now meet Huntsberry's in the title game on Wednesday evening at Waynesboro. Huntsberry's defeated the Waynesboro Bullets in a semi-final game Tuesday evening 72-42.

Tonight the Snowmen clash with the Friendly Five of Steelton on the Steelton high floor for the championship of the Harrisburg District Gold Medal tournament.

Playoffs Begin In Ice Loop Tonight

(By The Associated Press) The opening round of the American Hockey League's Calder cup playoffs gets under way tonight with all six teams seeing action.

Series "A," a best four-out-of-seven match between the Eastern division pennant winners, the Providence Reds, and the western half flag victors, the Cleveland Barons, opens at Cleveland.

This series may turn out to be the most interesting of the playoffs. The Barons finished the regular season Sunday riding the crest of a 27-game unbeaten streak and showing no signs of a letdown.

In Series "B," a best two-out-of-three affair, the Pittsburgh Hornets meet the Remblers in New Haven. The Buffalo Bisons take on the Bears in Hershey in Series "C," also a best two-out-of-three set.

Pittsburgh and Buffalo are favored to win their series.

In 1947 the U. S. picked up $127,447 from "unexplained balances in cash accounts."

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

TRAINS THAT COME AND GO

Maps have always fascinated me. They picture a story and stir the imagination. America is a network of railroads. They are the arteries and veins of its national activity and life. There is creative usefulness wherever these railroads touch the soil.

These trains that come and go day and night, are what have done more than anything else to make America what it is today. They are the life-blood of its commerce, its communication, and its social contacts. Through the valleys, over the hills, through the mountains, and around them, these trains endlessly wend their way.

Mail, food, machinery, and every manufactured product from the hand of man, find their way into the stream of transportation. Always there is movement. Abraham Lincoln who once stood at Omaha and looked upon the great undeveloped West, predicted its coming glory just as soon as these trains should come and go, as they finally did. And it was to the vision and courage of the late James J. Hill, that a new Empire was opened up in the great Northwest.

Railroad terminals and yards in the large centres are a fascinating sight. In and out, switching, loading and unloading, transferring—and then to the great stream to a thousand destinations. What an intricate and efficient organization of mind and muscle is this railroad system that spreads its life to every corner of national life!

I was born in a small country village, and lived half my life in a small town, and it was something to stir the imagination to go to the small railroad station and see the trains come in. It always filled my mind with wonder. The unloading of the baggage cars, the greeting of friends, and the nostalgic farewells, all did something to the mind and heart. The distant whistle of the trains stimulated an awakening in the blood stream.

I once sat with the engineer of the Santa Fe's "Super Chief," and watched the land ahead leap at me, as the train travelled at 100 miles an hour! My mind went back to the pictured trains of the past that were wonders at 30 miles an hour! From trains of today, is a tribute to courage, vision, and character.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Intimate Books."

WONDERING

I wonder if the Lord regrets
The gifts He gave to man,
And left him free on land and sea

To work and dream and plan?

He could have bound us, had He willed,

To instinct's narrow groove-

To eat and drink, but never think

Or fashion or improve.

But there are talents that He gave

Denied to bird and beast.

All else above, the gift of love To humans He released.

He graced the hands of men with skill.

Allowed them mirth and song, And then bestowed on all a code

Of conduct, right and wrong.

And now the world is in distress And torn with greed and hate.

The gifts allowed have made men proud

And power has spoiled the great.

Turned bitter is the human mind That still to choose is free.

Men use their skill for things to kill

And peace no more can be.

ITALY REJECTS YUGOSLAVIA'S TRIESTE OFFER

Rome, March 23 (AP)—A foreign ministry spokesman said today Italy has flatly rejected Yugoslavia's offer to swap Trieste for the Italian city of Gorizia.

The western allies proposed the return of the free territory of Trieste to Italy last Saturday. Yugoslavia countered yesterday with an offer to relinquish her claims on Trieste if Italy will give up Gorizia, to the north.

The spokesman said: "It is clear that Italy cannot accept the separation of a part of Italian flesh bartered for another part of Italian flesh."

No Official Offer

The Italian answer came only a few hours after great throngs roaring "viva Trieste" welcomed Premier Alcide De Gasperi and Foreign Minister Count Carlo Sforza back to Rome.

The spokesman emphasized that the Italian government had received no official word of the reported proposal regarding Gorizia. He said he was speaking entirely on the basis of press reports.

Asked what other hopes of treaty revision there was in regard to the Italian colonies, the spokesman said: "On the part of France, the thesis has been confirmed in the most absolute manner that she wishes to give Italy administration of Eritrea, Somaliland and Libya."

France has long been known to favor letting Italy administer these colonies, which the peace treaty virtually stripped from her. Russia also has stated willingness to have administration of the colonies revert to Italy.

The spokesman stressed the importance of the Trieste development to Italy's hopes for general revision of the peace treaty. He said that before and since Italian ratification of the peace treaty, its eventual revision had been the Italian government's aim.

He said he hoped Russia would go along with the western powers' Trieste proposal.

Revision of the treaty by restoration of Trieste to Italy the spokesman said, could be the "guarantee of peace and that sincere collaboration which Italy desires with neighboring people."

YALTA ACCORD PROVIDED FOR FREE NATIONS

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

(For DeWitt MacKenzie)

The time was February, 1945.

United States and Russian forces were in Germany. MacArthur was back in the Philippines. Churchill had called upon the German people to surrender. Victory in Europe was only three months ahead, victory in the Pacific only six months off.

President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill and Stalin met to plan the peace. They talked for eight days (February 4-11). The place was Czar Nicholas II's old summer palace on the Black Sea at Yalta in the Crimea.

The conference came to be called the Crimea Conference, the agreement it produced the Yalta Accord.

What do those talks mean today—three years and many other international conferences later?

What has survived, in a postwar era of big-power wrangling, of an agreement forged in the heat of a war in which the big powers were allies?

Yalta Agreement

General agreements on the United Nations, Germany, Poland and Yugoslavia were made public two days after the Crimea Conference.

Other accords—notably on the U.N. Security Council veto, German reparations, Russia's entry into war on Japan and the price for that—were not disclosed until two years later. The State Department published these March 24, 1947.

Here, in summary, are the points agreed upon at Yalta:

United Nations—to be formed in San Francisco in the spring of 1945. The Big Five to have a veto in the Security Council on important questions.

Germany—to be occupied by the four big European powers, each in its own zone, with coordination through a central Berlin control council. To be disarmed and de-Nazified. War criminals to be punished. Industries useful in war to be eliminated or controlled.

Reparations—"Germany must pay in kind for the losses caused by her to the allied nations." Payments to be in (1) removals of equipment, (2) annual deliveries of goods from current production and (3) use of German labor. A Moscow reparations committee to work from a Soviet suggestion that reparations under (1) and (2) should total $20,000,000, half to Russia.

Free Elections

Poland—to give the eastern third of its territory to Russia in the hope of getting part of eastern Germany in return. To take leaders of the London exile government into its Russian-sponsored provisional government.

Yugoslavia—Marshal Tito and former Premier Dr. Ivan Subasic to form a coalition government.

Liberated countries—to form broadly representative cabinets pledged to "free elections of governments responsive to the will of the people."

Japan—Russia to join in war on Japan on condition she get southern

Barnstable, Mass., March 23 3—A 13-year-old girl caused considerable blushing among full grown men on Sunday when a belligerent bull accompanied by a cow and a calf, tied up traffic on Route 6 for a half hour.

The bull and his family strolled onto the heavily-traveled highway and refused to move despite the shouts and honks by irate motorists.

Some drivers attempted to start a roundup, but they quickly returned to their automobiles when the bull began snorting and raising his hoof.

Cars were lined up a mile in each direction before little Dolly Van Duzen, 13, came to the rescue.

She rode her horse up to the bull and dismounted. Waving her arms in the bull's face, she yelled "seat."

The bull, the cow and the calf marched off and bewildered motorists continued on their way.

Spokesmen for both dealers and producers voiced strong criticism to the one and a half cent reduction proposed in tentative orders set up by the commission.

They insisted mounting feed and labor costs prohibit a decrease at this time. Only the Lehigh Valley Cooperative Farmers, Inc., and an individual consumer, Mrs. Elmer Steger, South Ejola, Dauphin coun-townships, Mr. Raffensperger said.

In outlining possible additional jointures, Superintendent Slaybaugh said a meeting will be held at East Berlin April 9 to consider a jointure of six districts in Adams county with districts bordering this county in York county, and a meeting is to be held in New Oxford March 30 to discuss a possible Berwick-Oxford-Mt. Pleasant-Conewago-Scherrystown merger.

"Fairfield is considering a jointure on an elementary school basis," Superintendent Slaybaugh said. "Involving Fairfield, and the townships of Highland, Freedom, Liberty and Hamiltonian. There may be possible merger in Union, Germany and part of Mt. Joy townships. We don't know about Conewago township and McSherrystown. They are close to Hanover."

Superintendent Slaybaugh and Assistant Superintendent Raffensperger stressed the importance of disrupting as little as possible community interest lines. These two, Dr. Keefauver and members of the school board agreed that children should go to school where families shop and go to church.

Mt. Joy and Straban townships," Dr. Keefauver said. "We have room to take in approximately 150 more pupils in the first eight grades. We are working on a junior high school idea now. We are in fine financial condition. We have enough money in the pot to pay off everything, but $300,000 to $400,000 for a new junior high school is another matter. A borough like Gettysburg cannot afford a building on a tuition basis. This, of course, is a bad time to build with costs so high, but we want to be able to plan ahead."

Dr. Keefauver said that if all districts were to pull away from Gettysburg "we could have a junior-senior setup now."

Mr. Raffensperger declared that Pennsylvania is apparently moving toward a county unit or modified county unit school plan." Dr. Keefauver said a modified county unit plan would be the easiest to establish, with five districts in the county and five school boards. "It might come from Franklin, Cumberland, Mt. Joy and Straban townships," Dr. Keefauver said. "We have room to take in approximately 150 more pupils in the first eight grades. We are working on a junior high school idea now. We are in fine financial condition. A borough like Gettysburg cannot afford a building on a tuition basis. This, of course, is a bad time to build with costs so high, but we want to be able to plan ahead."

Employment certificates and permits of the following school boards were approved: Abbottstown, Berwick, Bendersville, Biglerville, Hamilton, Hamiltonian, Littlestown, McSherrystown, Mt. Pleasant, Oxford, Tyrone and York Springs.

The board voted a salary increase of $15 a month for the next three months to Miss Justine Charles, secretary in the county office, which will bring her salary to $190 a month. She now receives $125 from the county, $25 from the Veterans' Administration and $25 from monies contributed from the school districts of the county. A new salary adjustment will be made July 1, with the beginning of a new fiscal year.

All members of the county board, present at the meeting, President Luther M. Lady, Luther E. Jacobs, Lady presided.

Barnstable, Mass., March 23 3—A 13-year-old girl caused considerable blushing among full grown men on Sunday when a belligerent bull accompanied by a cow and a calf, tied up traffic on Route 6 for a half hour.

The bull and his family strolled onto the heavily-traveled highway and refused to move despite the shouts and honks by irate motorists.

Some drivers attempted to start a roundup, but they quickly returned to their automobiles when the bull began snorting and raising his hoof.

Cars were lined up a mile in each direction before little Dolly Van Duzen, 13, came to the rescue.

She rode her horse up to the bull and dismounted. Waving her arms in the bull's face, she yelled "seat."

The bull, the cow and the calf marched off and bewildered motorists continued on their way.

Spokesmen for both dealers and producers voiced strong criticism to the one and a half cent reduction proposed in tentative orders set up by the commission.

They insisted mounting feed and labor costs prohibit a decrease at this time. Only the Lehigh Valley Cooperative Farmers, Inc., and an individual consumer, Mrs. Elmer Steger, South Ejola, Dauphin county, housewife, came out in favor of the tentative orders.

TO BAN GOODS OF MILITARY AID TO USSR

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, March 23 (AP)—This country's tough attitude toward Russia is taking another stiff turn. That's on the shipment of American goods to Russia. There'll be a ban on any goods that could help Russia militarily.

A government official—in the Commerce Department said:

1. No shipment of any kind for Russia has been okayed since March 1.

2. This week this government will decide what kind of goods can be shipped.

3. No goods can go if, directly or indirectly, they might help build Russia's military strength.

Heavy Industry Hit

For instance? He mentioned big power-shovels for opening mines. They might be an indirect military help.

So the ban is sure to fall on heavy industrial machinery, he said. But that kind of ban doesn't mean a ban on harmless goods for Russia. So he expects trade, of a kind, to continue. We import things from Russia, mostly undressed furs and metal for sharpening tools.

Why no shipments okayed for Russia since March 1? On that date the government stopped shipment to any country of anything—if it's worth $100 or more—without Commerce Department approval. So anyone wishing to ship to Russia anything worth $100 or more must first get a license from the Commerce Department.

Departments Cooperate

And it hasn't given approval since March 1.

Because of that set-up and the decision to be made this week, the Commerce Department will be able to say what can or can't go to Russia. Various government departments—will have a hand in this week's decision.

The State Department handles foreign policy. For instance, toward Russia. The Commerce Department will not let anything through which might interfere with that policy.

Yesterday for a while Catholic War Veterans picketed a Russian ship, the Chukotka, which was loading machinery at Jersey City. They finally let the loading continue.

Satellites Covered Too

How could such loading take place if no shipments for Russia have been approved since March 1? The same Commerce Department official explained it this way: Goods being loaded now were on their way to port before March 1. This will give some idea of the trade between this country and Russia.

In 1938, the last pre-war year, 1.6 per cent of all our exports abroad went to Russia. They were worth $60,000,000. In 1947 our shipments to Russia were 1 per cent of our entire export trade. They were worth $149,000,000. What we imported from Russia in 1938 was one per cent of our entire import trade. It was about the same in 1947.

But won't the Communist-run countries around Russia be able to buy from us the things Russia wants but can't get here? The Commerce Department official said "no," that Russia and all the Russian-dominated countries will be treated as one area.

Second Murderer Gets Commutation

Nashville, Tenn., March 23 (AP)—The death sentence of Richard Reilly, 21, Pittsburgh, has been commuted by Governor Jim McCord.

Reilly was granted a 32-day stay of execution March 3, a few hours before he was scheduled to be electrocuted for the holdup slaying of a Memphis clothing merchant, Sam Colsky.

Gv. McCord said the Reilly commutation was ordered on recommendation of State District Attorney General Will Gerber, Trial Judge Sam Campbell and a member of the jury.

Gov. McCord commuted to 99 years the death sentence of Reilly's companion, Daniel Budzynski, 19, also of Pittsburgh.

Jeanne Clair Lucas, 20-year-old Pittsburgh Sunday school teacher had sought permission to marry Budzynski in the death house if his sentence was not commuted.

Defer Test Case On Religious Issue

Easton, Pa., March 23 (AP)—Action to test legality of religious training in Pennsylvania has been deferred in Northampton county court.

Billie Jane Brubaker and other residents brought a suit against Easton school district in protest of time for religious education during school periods.

The court action yesterday was made on a request for continuance by Raymond C. Weber, school solicitor, pending an opinion from the state attorney general on whether the recent U. S. Supreme Court opinion governs the case.

RESURVEY DIKES

Washington, March 23 (AP)—Army engineers have ordered a resurvey of the flood protection dikes at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., to see if two additional feet should be added. Sen. Francis Myers (D-Pa.) says Myers said engineers assured him yesterday that the flood now approaching Wilkes-Barre will be three feet and eight inches below the top of the dikes.

The residents of Vassar, Mich., use a row boat to make their way along Main Street after it was flooded by water from the Cass River. Vassar was one of scores of Michigan communities hit by floods that heralded the coming of spring. (AP Wirephoto)

Chapter 25

Carolyn looked at Eddie Gale in complete astonishment.

"A Carnival of Animals!" she exclaimed. "What on earth are you talking about?"

"Just what I said," he repeated. "That orchestra over there gave me the idea—and I'll bet it will work."

"But what's it all about?" she demanded. "You can share your great secret with me, can't you? So far, you've been offering cryptograms."

"My little, impatient darling," he said, taking care to indicate that his good nature had been imposed upon. "What I've been trying to say—against almost insurmountable obstacles—is that we could put on a concert entirely about animals. With that Saint-Saens piece for a theme, we could line up the animals from the zoo and make them a kind of sideshow. In other words—a carnival. Is that clearer?" His question carried a satirical solicitude.

"Slightly—but it's still full of gaps," she retorted. "For instance, where are you going to stage this big event?"

He thought it over a minute and answered calmly:

"Why not hold it at City Auditorium? They could pack in 12,000 people. Suppose we held it two nights—with the right admission charge, we ought to be able to raise the rest of that $50,000."

Carolyn made reeling motions, as though prepared to drop over in a dead faint.

"City Auditorium?" she gasped. "Why not make it Soldier Field—or even Yankee Stadium?"

"Too cold," he pronounced blandly. "This is a winter carnival. Wouldn't do to have the lions sneezing during the performance—might upset Dr. Warshawsky."

Carolyn straightened up, resisting a temptation to topple over in a genuine faint.

"Dr. Warshawsky! The conductor of the Lakeport Symphony?"

"Why not?" he inquired imperceptibly. "Why take a pickup band when you can get the best?"

Vice Squad Seizes Copies Of 10 Novels

Philadelphia, March 23 (AP)—Vice squad detectives visited 15 bookshops yesterday and seized more than 600 copies of 10 novels.

Topping the list of seized books were all of James T. Farrell's works: "Raintree County," by Ross Lockridge, Jr.; Erskine Caldwell's "Tobacco Road," and "Wild Palms," by William Faulkner.

House acceptance of the Senate figure will speed the measure to Mr. Truman. The President used his veto power twice last year to kill two Republican attempts to cut taxes by $4,000,000,000.

But the odds are against the President now. The Senate's 73 to 11 vote late yesterday was 18 more than the two thirds majority needed to override a veto if the lineup remains the same.

The House on February 2 passed the $6,500,000 bill 297 to 120, or with 19 votes to spare. Both Houses must show two-to-one majorities to overturn a presidential objection.

GUILTY AGAIN

Philadelphia, March 23 (AP)—A jury in U. S. District Court yesterday found Jerome Poster, 25—who twice tried to blind himself to prevent forgery temptation—guilty on nine counts of mail robbery, forgery and passing worthless checks.

Federal District Judge James P. McGranary deferred sentence until April 9. Postal authorities testified.

Poster tried to destroy his eyesight last October with a hypodermic needle while serving a year's sentence for forgery in the Holmesburg prison, Philadelphia.

Knutson Agrees

Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.), author of the original tax cutting bill, announced he is ready to accept the Senate revisions. They trimmed the amount of the tax slash from $6,500,000,000, as approved by the House, to $4,800,000,000.

But Democratic Leader Rayburn, of Texas, served notice he would put a stop to that. Hence it appeared unlikely that the House could get around to vote until tomorrow.

Are we going to ship the whole menagerie down there for the concerts?" she demanded.

"Lord, no," he replied. "We'll arrange a few of them in the side hallways of the auditorium. That's not so startling; the indoor circus does the same thing there every winter." He paused for a moment, reflecting. "There's just one thing more; we ought to have some kind of comic relief."

"How about a troupe of trained seals?" she asked, in an effort at wittering sarcasm.

"That's perfect!" he said enthusiastically. "I know an act that will stand the audience on its ears!"

TAX CUT BILL TO PASS HOUSE ON WEDNESDAY

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY

Washington, March 23 (AP)—A

House vote tomorrow of "more than three to one" will send the $4,800,000,000 tax cutting bill to President Truman, Speaker Martin predicted today.

Noting the 73 to 11 margin chalked up in the Senate, the Massachusetts Republican declared: "The tax cut is certain. The veto will be overridden."

But Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Senate's GOP policy committee, was less positive.

Nearly everyone on Capitol Hill looks for Mr. Truman to veto the bill.

NEW EAGLE CHAMP

Harrisburg, March 23 (AP)—A pert little Beagle hound from Middleton, Del., is the new champion of the annual Harrisburg Dog Show.

Champion Edgewood Gay Girl won best of breed honors from canine entries from 12 states. In the final test the tiny Beagle hound took the measure of five rivals in the final judging.

I don't know what effect that will have," Taft said.

However, an administration official who asked not to be quoted by name agreed with Martin. He said he sees "no chance" that a one-third-plus-one vote can be mustered in the Senate to uphold a veto.

Martin said House Republicans would try to get the Senate tax cut version approved by unanimous consent.

But Democratic Leader Rayburn, of Texas, served notice he would put a stop to that. Hence it appeared unlikely that the House could get around to vote until tomorrow.

"PANIC POLICY" SAYS PRAVDA OF TRUMAN SPEECH

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY

Moscow, March 23 (AP)—Pravda declared Monday that President Truman's speech to Congress last Wednesday reflected a "panic policy."

It was the first editorial reaction in the Soviet press to the President's strong speech recommending adoption of Universal Military Training and re-adoption of the draft.

The President made his speech, the Communist party organ declared, because his "election managers demanded fire and brimstone, anti-Communism and war hysteria, as a means of diverting the attention of the American people from the deepening severity of domestic economic difficulties and from the lamentable results of the entire policy of the administration."

"Artificially Inflaming"

The article was written by Commentator M. Marinin.

Truman's message to Congress shows that ruling circles in the United States, seriously alarmed about internal difficulties as well as by the growth of the forces of democracy throughout the world, now are losing their balance and are trying to find a way out, a means of artificially inflaming international relations," Marinin said.

"Certainly this path will not bring them any laurels and can only accelerate the final fiasco of the foreign policy of American ruling circles," the commentator said.

SHARPEST RED CONDEMNATION MADE PUBLIC

Vatican City, March 23 (P)—The sharpest, most explicit condemnation of Communism to come from any ranking Catholic prelate in Italy yet was made public here today.

Looking toward Italy's vital parliamentary elections April 18, Eugene Cardinal Tisserant disclosed he had told priests and parishioners in his archdiocese:

"I think that no menace so grave as atheistic communism has ever been confronted by Christian civilization."

Cardinal Tisserant, primate of Porto and Santa Rufina Archdiocese, made his statements in a circular letter sent out some time ago but released publicly only today.

He is the sole non-Italian Cardinal of the Vatican Curia. His archdiocese is in the environs of Rome.

As secretary for the congregation for Eastern churches the sturdy, French-born Cardinal, who will be 64 tomorrow, is peculiarly concerned over communist gains.

He is responsible to Pope Pius XII for the spiritual well-being of millions of Catholics of the Eastern rite. The bulk of these live in Poland, the Ukraine, Romania, South-Eastern Albania, Greece, Bulgaria, Turkey, Iran, Lebanon, Syria, Palestine, Egypt, Eritrea and Northern Ethiopia.

Cardinal Tisserant's letter said Catholics who favor or spread Marxist social-communism expose themselves to loss of faith and "cooperate in the diffusion of false doctrine."

The triumph of immorality, disorder and anarchy of the family, country, and state."

Such people, he said, cannot ask of priests to be admitted of the Holy Sacrament or to have the ritual blessings of the church.

FOREST BLAZES RAGE IN JERSEY

Mays Landing, N. J. March 23 (P)

—Some 4,800 acres of New Jersey woodland were destroyed by flames yesterday in what state Fire Warden William J. Seidel described as the worst forest fire day this year.

High winds fanned the blazing timber, sending spurts of flame as high as 40 feet into the air in some places. All 20 fires were reported under control by nightfall.

The largest blaze was in Gloucester county, 2½ miles east of Malaga, where 3,600 acres and several small houses and sheds were destroyed, Seidel said.

Atlantic county had four fires, one of them being halted just several hundred yards from the naval air station at Pomona. That blaze cut a 1½-mile path through 800 acres of brush pine and roared close to the 2,000,000 Atlantic city race track but without damage there.

Six hundred men fought that Atlantic county fire, 400 coming from the forest fire service and 200 from the naval air station.

Steelworker To Wed His Mother-In-Law

Los Angeles, March 23 (P)—Here's a man who is going to marry his mother-in-law.

He is Jose Negrete, 38-year-old steelworker. He obtained an annulment of his 1944 marriage to Petra Martinez, 22, on the ground she married him under false representations and never intended to live with him as man and wife.

With the annulment granted, Negrete applied for a license to wed Mrs. Catalina Ruiz, 39. His lawyer, Walter Hempstead, had stipulated that Mrs. Ruiz is the mother of his two children.

Warren K. Fields, former brother-in-law of Negrete and now a prospective son-in-law, testified that the steelworker occupied separate room from Mrs. Negrete.
